What travelers say they love:

Highly recommended to have meal there if you visit Sun Moon ...

Andes from Hong Kong
Family with young children

Dating back to 1901, this 5-star hotel overlooking the mystical Sun Moon Lake was once the favorite summer getaway of Taiwanese President Chiang Kai Shek. After being renovated, the contrasting light and shadow details accentuate the hotel's sleek, minimalist décor, creating a mood enhancing Zen experience. Choose from a suite or get a courtyard villa with its own private swimming pool attached. All the rooms are elaborately designed and feature Bose stereo systems and Asian flourishes. Some rooms even come with stone fireplaces, and the balconies are adorned with bonsai trees.

"Wonderful experience"

Lalu has the best location overlooking Sun Moon Lake. Facilities and staffs are both very nice. The Spa is a bit pricey but offers great services and wonderful massage and great view over the Lake. It's both relaxing and romantic. Few things that we were not so impressed by are cooking at the Chinese restaurant at Building B is so amateur and no where close to the overall standard of Lalu; we booked from Avoca and asked for higher level in the building. With the hotel less than a third full, we were placed in a room close to bottom of the building and had to suffer interruption to our view of the Lake.

It was such a treat for the senses to stay at the Ialu, calming, soothing, and quiet with every detail, from the architecture to the service. In our opinion, the best way to enjoy our sun moon lake is from the massive patio of one of Ialu's lakeside suites, things that stand out... our very warm welcome to the lake nearby put me in tears by the time we were guided to our room to see the unbeatable view of the lake, music created especially for the hotel, the old bonsai tree on our patio, viewing and listening to the rain, very comfortable bed, borrowed art books from their library, hot bath overlooking lake (we were told, headie by a canadian chef), delicious dinner at their western restaurant (we were told, headed by a canadian chef), a kind send off before we were shuttled back to bus station.

"Fabulous!"

This is definitely worthy, everything was wonderful, Spectacular Sun Moon Lake view from the room. The food are really nice especially the Chinese restaurant - everything tasted really good! Highly recommended to have meal there if you visit Sun Moon Lake. The only downside, they restricted you to wear a swimming cap if you wanted to go into the swimming pool (even though you will not wet your hair but just wanted to snap some photos in the pool)... otherwise, we had great time there. The SPA is superb also.

"The ultimate Sun Moon Lake experience"

+ Best view of the lake, modern zen architecture, service level

Everything is perfect; no complaints at all, and the children would love to come back. It's a bit pricey (around US$600 including additional child with breakfast) but commensurate to the ultimate sun moon lake experience. It's a hotel most Taiwanese people would like to visit, I think the Lailu lived up to its name.

The Lulu must be the nicest hotel at Sun Moon Lake. Not only we are facing a good view from the room, the interior of the hotel is nicely decorated too. We had dinner at the Chinese restaurant, & the food & service is 5 star! Wished the price is lower.

- + Location, great view, best room and balcony

Best in sun moon lake area in terms of location and hotel comfort. Views are fabulous as it's just at the lake. Throw in a nice room with a fabulous balcony! Only suggestion is to change the lounge chairs in the room for a more comfortable sofa. We dined at the Chinese restaurant which is nothing to shout about for the price. This hotel is highly recommended

Great thanks to all the staff at the Lulu which made our honeymoon stay so memorable. We were not able to book in advance but managed to secure a last minute booking and the staff were able to provide us with an amazing lake view suite with a fireplace and also cake to celebrate! Karen who was at the desk was also extremely resourceful and managed to help me purchase a battery charger as the desk was also extremely resourceful and managed to help me purchase a battery charger + SD card which I left at home in my rush to pack while off duty. Truly the staff went out of their way to make us feel we come.

From the hotel, one can wake up to the stunning view of Sun Moon Lake. The hotel is beautifully designed in most areas, except the Chinese restaurant which looked quite ordinary. But food was tasty. The hotel is within walking distance from the town which has some good local restaurants. The downside of the hotel is that the windows are not sealed completely so the noise of nature (insects, birds) may wake you up before sunrise and mosquitos are seen in the room.

The Lailu hotel itself is a destination. I only stayed for one night and wish to stay longer. Service is excellent and that's not much I can complain. If really have to say something for improvement it will be there isn't too much choice for food for solo travellers.

- View, room, spa and the whole hospitality.
- Far from the city.

The hotel premissa is huge, with different sections. The reception area has one of the breathtaking views. My room has the lake view, it was spacious, the adjoining toilet/bath was excellent. The balcony overlooks the lake. We tried the spa and its facility was excellent. They have a number of baths ranging from hot to cold. BF was alright, although we didn't have dinner there.
